President's Message

President's Message by Larry Behm

The Auction and Casting Clinic are behind us, fishing trips are winding down, it is the time of year to look ahead to next year and consider how you can help this Club. We need some extra hands and fresh ideas. As a volunteer run organization, we rely on the help and dedication of our members. Our community events and fundraising efforts have allowed our Club to operate for 50+ successful years.

We have open Board leadership and administration positions including communications, and fundraising.

Please consider helping your Club in any capacity you can. If you have questions or would like to know more about where you can help, please reach out me.

Thank you to everyone who supported the auction. The evening went off well, given that we had to scramble at the last minute to find a new location! People got some amazing deals and the Club raised about $7,700 to fund our 2023 programs and scholarships.

You will see the Club moving around a bit the remainder of this year as we work through finding a new venue. The October and November meetings will be at the Pom & Olive Restaurant in Costa Mesa. December's meeting will be virtual via Zoom.

If you are not receiving email updates from the Club, please look at your junk mail settings and ensure that our notices reach you. We use email exclusively for last minute changes and this post-COVID world had presented a raft of those changes!

Finally, thinking of the future and our mission for conservation, this article cause me to ask "what I am doing to hurt or help our beloved mayfly?" Did you know it is the oldest winged insect, and are considered ecological sentinels? What are you doing for mayflies and by extension our fish?

New Venue Search Team

We need members to join a team to search for a new venue. For the second time in two years, our meeting venue was sold and we were kicked out! We need to have a committee search for, and evaluate possible locations for our monthly meetings. Would you like to help? I estimate that the committee would work for 2-3 months to find the right location. It would require several phone/zoom calls to establish a plan of action, then each member will be expected to make several calls and visits to screen down to a short list. The entire committee will visit candidate locations that are on the short list. The process will end with the securing of an agreement.

No previous experience is required, just a willingness to give the Club some of your time, and comfort contacting sales people at potential venues.

Trout in the Classroom

We are looking for teachers who want to educate their students about fish biology, fish habitat and fish life cycles. Do you know such a teacher?

FFCOC is running the Trout in Classrooms (TIC) program again this year. This program is an important part of our Club's mission regarding education and conservation. By teaching children about fisheries and what is important for a sustainable habitat, we are encouraging conservation of the habitat we all enjoy so well.

During the COVID years the program shrank to 5 schools and we now want to ramp it back up again. We are asking you to help find teachers who would like to join the program. CA Wildlife is very supportive, has a new coordinator, Abram Tucker, and wants us to help.

So can you help find a teacher who could participate in this program? Help us with a lead and we can do the rest!!

Ron Gregg (roneggregg@gmail.com) is coordinating the program and leading a group of Club volunteers. He is the primary contact for any teacher who is interested.

Thank you for considering the project and helping to move it forward.

Stream Keepers Wanted

Are you interested in a fly-fishing trip – someplace you've gone before or maybe someplace you've always wanted to go?

A great way to meet people and hone your fly-fishing skills, and ultimately have fun is participating in a FFCOC fly fishing trip, and one of the ways of doing this is being a Stream Keeper.

Every trip sponsored by FFCOC, and included in the FFCOC Outings calendar, has a Stream Keeper whether it's a multi-day trip or just a morning of fly-fishing at the surf.

Does this sound a bit too daunting? It's not. The FFCOC has a procedure specifically for Stream Keepers in the Members Only section of the FFCOC website, look in Document Folder Steamkeeper (Documents - Fly Fishers Club of Orange County \(clubexpress.com\)). Contact your Outings Director, Don Tayenaka, and there are many former and current Stream Keepers that will answer any, and all questions. This is a great way to get involved in your Club, meet other Club members, and mostly enjoy fly-fishing!

Newsletter inputs for the next (November) edition are due to the Editor by Saturday, October 26, to meet publication deadlines. Classroom Sessions:

On-The River Clinic:

Saturday Nov. 5th

Sunday Nov. 6th

The Fly Fishing Club of Orange County's (FFCOC's) On The River Classes and Clinic program is a perfect way for new, and less-experienced, fly fishers to learn the art of fly fishing. The program which is open to Club Members introduces participants to the fundamentals of fly fishing including the equipment, techniques and science of catching fish. The program is a great introduction to a sport you can enjoy for the rest of your life.

Joe Libeu, a member of the FFCOC, is a Fly Fishers International Certified Master Caster Instructor and professional guide. He developed and instructs Advanced Nymphing Clinics on the Owens River. Several experienced club members assist Joe providing hands-on training during the on the river clinic.

The program includes everything needed to plan and prepare for a successful fly-fishing trip. Classroom training subjects include equipment, insect life cycles and how flies imitate them, how trout behave, clues as to what fish eat, stream care and etiquette, reading the water, nymph rigging and much more.

Club News - Upcoming (and On-Going) Event

The on the river clinic is held on the Lower Owens River near Bishop. Many of the items discussed in the classroom setting are covered in the field. In addition, the on the river clinic includes reading the stream, entomology, casting, mending, setting depth of flies using indicators, and numerous demonstrations. The program includes fishing one-on-one with one of the more experienced club members.

The On The River Classes and Clinic program is focused on helping new FFCOC members learn the basics of fly fishing and will be in follow up to our annual Casting Clinic held on Saturday, September 17th. Participation in the On The River Classes and Clinic program is limited. New Club Members and those who signed up at the September Casting Clinic will be given preference. Other club members are welcome to participate if space allows.

Remember, the On The River Classes and Clinic program is only open to FFCOC members. If you are not a club member you can join at our web site www.ffcoc.org or contact Cherie Dalton, the Club's Membership Chair at membership@ffcoc.org

CLUB VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

If you are an accomplished fly fisher and know the Lower Owens River, you would be a great candidate to work with Joe and provide instruction at the On The River Classes and Clinic program. Please contact Doug Jones if you can help. We will need eight to ten members to help with the training.

Rod Building Class

We just finished a very successful rod building class. Six members spend three Saturday mornings learning how rods are made, what creates a quality rod and how to make their own. There were a few frustrating moments as people learned that a third hand or sixth finger would be useful when wrapping a small guide! However, everyone learned the tricks and finished just using their own hands.

This year we tried a new approach, that appears to work better than previous class approaches. The Club put together kits for each member so they didn't have to make purchase decisions before they understood how the parts would be used. We found a fly shop that gave a group discount and were able to keep the total cost to $120/rod.

So, for a low investment, our members have a new rod, a new skill and broader knowledge of rod quality and function.

We would like to offer another class in early February. If you are interested please contact Larry Behm, lbehm@icloud.com or 949-235-4466.

FFCOC Bridgeport Outing 2022

September 2-6

The FFCOC converged at our annual fall outing at Willow Springs RV Resort and Motel over Labor Day weekend. Club Members participating included: Bob Bess, Paul Nakamura, Dave McClure, Tom Niedzialek, Loring Davies, Kiernan McGowan, Dennis Chandler, Young Kwon, and Janna & Terry Roznos. We were a bit too early to see the leaves change for fall, and fishing was tough – very skinny water, and very persnickety trout. None the less, everyone in the group dispersed every day to the surrounding creeks and lakes to try their luck. The best local fishing waters were found on Buckeye Creek (above Buckeye Campground) and the West Walker River in the canyon region south of Walker. Young offered casting tune-ups out on the lawn in front of our host lodge. We all gathered at night at the evening campfire to share our favorite beverages and to tell our tales of catching fish or at least trying to catch fish. Also, as a special treat, Willow Springs grilled hamburgers for all their guests on Saturday night with rich, gooey brownies for dessert. We ended the outing with the traditional farewell dinner at the Virginia Creek Settlement Restaurant across the street from our lodging location.

This year, we had two travel trailers, and one camper from FFCOC staying in the RV section of the park, and we filled five of their motel rooms. The biggest group we've had since starting this trip three years ago. We will return again next year; probably in early October!

Club News - Fish Tales

August in Montana, Big Horn River, very productive fishing with my two groups of 12 fly fisherman on the River. Many guided everyday, but wade fishing was just as productive both dry and under. Our outfitter, Beau McFadyean who has been a speaker at the club provided us with excellent guides. Excellent fishing for two weeks, some hopper and hopper/dropper was the ticket. Weather was beautiful (warm) and water cool for great wet wading or swimming. Check out the Photos.

Big Horn River Photos (Con't):

Fishing Kern in late September 2022

On unexpected availability, I headed out to Kern on a one day trip. It was a sunny day at 70F in the morning. The last year's wildfire badly affected the upper Kern area, leaving charred trees and slides by the recent rains. The almost forgotten trail was impossible to find due to the fire and it took about an hour to hike down to the Kern River gorge from Lloyd Meadow Rd. The water was a bit dark due to the silt and ashes carried by rains and slides but was still visible about 2-3 ft deep. The water temperature was felt to be high 50's. There was a hatch of tiny pale morning duns, but no rises immediately noticed. I casted size 12 stimulator to the first deep run and caught a couple of very nice rainbows. When seeing a very subtle rise near a big rock across the water, I quickly changed the fly to size 16 Kaddis (Caddis with "K"). I call it "sinking" caddis dry fly. It's a fly pattern that I created for uses in the Sierra areas. It's a hybrid of elk hair caddis and caddis pupa. It is casted for drifting on water, followed by submerging in the water when the fly line drags it in a fast moving run (because it is tied on a heavy nymph hook). The fly was very effective and landed about 20 (objective guess)-25 (fisher's overestimation) rainbows for 4 h of fishing. About a third was from submerged actions (surprise catches). The largest fish of the day (~17 in) was caught on Kaddis when it touched the eddy under a tree and circled there around 3 seconds. Overall, it was one of the most productive day ever at Kern! Hiking back to the road was brutal. It was more than 1,000 ft elevation gain for 0.75 mi and the temperature was high 90's (no shades with trees and bushes burnt). However, it was a very good day for getting out in a gorgeous place with a fly rod.

Flies That Keep On Giving!

Pumpkin Spice

By Janna Roznos

Tis the season. You see pumpkin spice everything now; how about in your local fly shop?? One of my all-time favorite places to fly fish is the San Joaquin River in the eastern Sierras. I especially like to fish there in the fall, and with a Tenkara rod and my go to fly is the Pumpkin Spice which always – at least so far- has caught me fish. The fly is essentially the Frenchie pattern tied in orange. For detail instructions and a history of this fly I recommend, Charlie Craven's book Tying Nymphs. My version is a little bit different (different materials) because I used what I had on hand. I've fished this fly alone – tight line— under an indicator, and under a dry dropper. So not only is it a fish magnet but it's versatile, too.

Materials:

Hook: Harak 450 BL #14
Bead: 1/8 (3mm) Gold slotted Tungsten
Thread: Uni 8/0 Rust Brown
Tail: Coq de leon
Rib: Ultra Wire Small Chartreuse
Abdomen: Pheasant Tail
Thorax: Hairline UV Orange Dub Ice

Note: Our Master Fly Tyer and Instructor (John Williams) is building a new studio in his backyard; his fly library is buried in storage. Hopefully John will return to our newsletter soon!

Flies That Keep On Giving!

Instructions:

1. Bead on hook and in the vice and lay down a thread base to the bend of the hook.
2. Preen several herls of the Coq de lean making sure the tips are in alignment and then strip them from the stem. Trim the butt ends. Measure the tail, it should be the same length as the shank of the hook. Tie in on top of the hook shank and trim any excess.
3. Tie in a length of wire for the rib (approximately 4 ") along the side of the hook shank ending at the tail. Move the thread to about 2/3 from the tail.
4. Preen a small bunch (maybe 4 – 5) pheasant tails aligning the tips and then strip them from the stem. Trim the butt ends. Tie on the shank of the hook and wrap to the back of the hook shank, making the body as smooth as possible, then move the thread forward toward the bead.
5. Take the pheasant tails and carefully wrap them forward in touching wraps covering the thread body. Tie off close to the bead. Trim.
6. Dub a small amount of UV Orange Dub Ice on the thread and then wrap behind the bead covering the butt ends of the pheasant tail and making a thorax. Then whip finish and trim.
